AREA 51 "ROCKSTAR" REPORT

What you are about to read is a story that has never been told before, a story that up until now, only few close "insiders" have ever heard... And I'd like to keep it that way for as long as possible. This report contains a lot of powerful information and I don't want it getting out to the general public. This is for your eyes only, DO NOT, I repeat, DO NOT, share this information with anyone.

First David Blaine, then Criss Angel, now this guy? Who does he think he is... and why should I Listen to him?

Great questions and if I was sitting at my computer right now I would be asking myself the same thing.

So let me formally introduce myself...

My name is Riley Dayne...

And I'm an addict...

I'm addicted to the area 51 system...

Imagine being able to control any social environment, instantly change anyone's mind to agree with you at the drop of a hat, mentally pounce that guy at work who always one-ups you...or maybe even get the girl of your dreams in seconds and do it all with your hobby... magic & hypnosis

So you're intrigued...

But what does this have to do with magic or hypnosis...sounds more like mind control?

Well let me explain...

IT ALL STARTS WITH A STORY, MY STORY. (AND IT'S A STRANGE ONE AT THAT)

Allow me to wind the clocks back several years...

Its 12:03 AM...

I sit alone in my dimly bedroom, the only light sources from my monitor casting an oversized silhouette behind me.

I'm browsing for free magic sites (stop laughing...I really was), wondering what the latest and greatest magic & hypnosis effects on today's market are.

I was a seeker just like you; I knew some card tricks, a few good mind reading routines and even dabbled in a little hypnosis, although I was by no means a master of any of these areas by any stretch of the imagination.

As I scrolled endlessly through page after page of ad riddled garbage, and closing what seemed like a never ending source of annoying pop-ups

(all claiming I was their 100,000 visitor and should immediately "click here" to claim my prize...)

Something caught my eye, it was a forum thread that read "mixing Hypnosis and Magic = Instant Mind control"

I was intrigued...

I clicked the blue, bold header and I entered what appeared to be a poorly made, gray and black (which thankfully gave my eyes a rest from the monotonous white of Google)website forum that only contained a meek 12 registered users...

However all of this had failed to detour me from what I had come here for... I was still dead set on learning about this magic/hypnosis du-o of mind control.

AND THEN I SAW IT...

"mixing Hypnosis and Magic = Instant Mind control" I clicked the header and entered the thread.

There were three different screen-names posting inside, Disco, Casanova and Johnny Hong-Kong...

They spoke about something to do with "The Others" "mind control" "elite invite only seminar" and something to do with "area 51"... judging by the near unfollowable (not sure if that's a word) nature of the posts...I determined I had clearly entered an ongoing conversation.

But nonetheless I added my question to the post...

Question:

"what's all this area 51 mind control, hocus pocus about?"

Disco replied:

"It's not hocus pocus man...this stuff is real, it's a brand new type of magic, it fuses illusionism, mentalism and Black book hypnosis techniques to create a form of mind control, it's hard to explain...its known as the area 51 system. Only like three people in the world know how it works, the community calls them the "The Others" and supposedly they're putting on an invite only seminar to teach it, but so far none of us have been able to get invites...but one guy on here, he goes by the screen name "Fairy" he apparently helped create the system with the others...but there's no point on emailing him, he doesn't answer, we've tried."

This confusing post gave me more questions than answers...

I soon replied back:

"Why is it called the area 51 system, and who are these "Others" guys, it sounds interesting, I'm kinda interested in going, do you know how to get an invite?"

Disco replied back within a matter of minutes (this guy needed a girl friend):

"a lot of people ask why it's called the area 51 system, it started as kind of a joke, lots of magicians and hypnotists said that this kind of stuff couldn't be done and that its only a myth, so eventually it just picked up the nick name area 51 because no one really knew if it was real or not. But let me tell you, it definitely is REAL!

And I'm not really sure why they call them the "Others", I think it's just because no one knows their real names, they're kinda like Keyser Söze, you don't even know if they're real until you're sitting right in front of them

And hell if I know how to get an invite, I've been trying for months, so if you somehow manage to get one, be sure to pass one down to me.

Oh hey, if you're interested in this stuff go here LINK"

The post managed to answer some of my questions, but I still had a billion more...

Like who the hell is Keyser Söze?...

(If you're wondering, I later googled the name it's from the movie "Usual Suspects," Keyser is the mysterious mastermind who is alluded to throughout the film, however his true identity is only revealed in the last few minutes - I watched it, it's a good movie.)

Back to the story...

I clicked the link Disco posted and was redirected to another forum thread, only this one was a lot more in depth, I was finally learning, and learning I was...this stuff was MIND BLOWING, over the next several weeks I became a valued member of the online community and began studying...

At first I was a little skeptic as to whether or not this stuff would work, so I decided to test it out...

I started off small... and then tried a little more advanced techniques...

I did it! I managed to pull off a few good routines (like the 1 -10 mind reading game, coin guess cheat..and a few others) and...

Accidentally got a date with a scorching hot babe (later turned out she was a model)

And when I say accident, I mean accident, I wasn't even running the system on her, turns out she was two tables over and accidentally overheard me.

That's how powerful this stuff is.

Before this I had never really had success with women, so I figured if it worked once, it might just work again.

But where to find more girls?

...The clubs!!

However by the time I got there, the line was over 70 people long and moving at a snails pace!

But none the less I tried what I had learned and attempted to persuade the bouncer to let me in.

...it...Was...AN EPIC FAIL

I crashed and burned folks! And not only that but, Linda (the model) dumped me three days later!

This sucked!

But I didn't give up, how could I, I had seen what even the smallest of these techniques could do... I NEEDED TO KNOW MORE.

So I set out to track down "Fairy"

After hours of endless forum searching I finally found him and contacted him via email...(sounds like something you shouldn't do, talk to a guy named fairy on the internet, but trust me, it sounds weirder on paper)

So I sent him an email introducing myself...

No reply

So I sent another...

No reply

So I sent another and another...until finally I sent him an email with this as the title "If you don't answer me I will Kill myself"

We both knew this was an empty threat, yet it seemed to get the job done, he replied:

"Well since this is an urgent matter of life and death, I suppose I have a minute"

That's all I needed ...I WAS IN

After days of what some may deem stalker-like behavior, I finally convinced him to meet with me.

He sent me the directions to his house...Like I'd fall for that, I watched that Dateline NBC show "To Catch A Predator"

So, to his annoyance, he reluctantly agreed to meet me in a public place, we picked a local restaurant and met.

Fairy explained that he had recently shelled the small fortune it took to attend one of the "others" rare invite only area 51 seminars...and he was the only students who had managed to keep in regular contact with the leaders since.

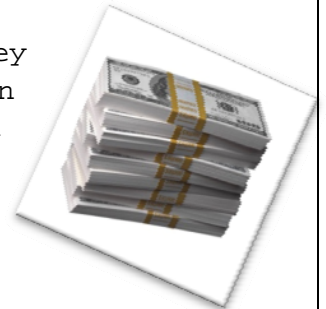

I looked at "fairy" he was that guy, the guy that turns heads when he walks into the room..

He had everything...

Since learning the area 51 system, he:

Convinced his boss to double his salary, met a beautiful women (they are now married), Drives an Austin martin vanquish and some the best friends a guy could have...he was living like a rock star...

And the weird part is...HE WASN'T A ROCK STAR

HE WAS A NERDY ACCOUNTANT!

And then the biggest shock of all came...he showed me his before and after pictures, since his area 51 training...this guy went from geek to SUPA FREAK...in a good way

I didn't understand how this could work...

How could a combination of illusionism, mentalism and Black book Hypnosis equal all of this.

I NEED AWNSERS...and fast!

So after a lot of convincing, he managed to introduce me to the leaders

And thankfully for once in my life my Irish baby face paid off...

Initially when I approached the leaders, known by the underground as the "others" they weren't interested. But I didn't give up, I explained that sooner or later they were going to have to pass this information on to someone, because they couldn't keep all of this to themselves forever...

What if something happened to them...we couldn't just let this stuff be lost...After all its too powerful!

It took a long time for them to fully trust me...

But after a lot hard work and persistence they finally agreed to take me under their wing as an apprentice

For one reason and one reason only...

(this is where my baby face comes in) they simply agreed because of my age...I was old enough to understand and practice their teachings, yet young enough that they could work with me for years and years ...

Kind of like how Olympic coaches pick their students young...

And for the first time in history...the three leaders were going to give one person full mind and body area 51 training...

This had never been done before. I was the first.

They transformed me into an area 51 master...

Each leader took me one-on-one for five hours a day and downloaded their specific area of expertise into my brain, and we rotated that way for months on end.

And When I say underground leaders, I don't mean they live under ground, wear cloaks all the time, hide from the sun and all that jazz, if you saw them on the street they would look just like any ordinary "Joe," however they each posses extraordinary gifts...

So let me introduce you to them... (however I'm sure you understand that I can't post their real names, so I'll just use their pen names)

FIRST THERE'S JAMES : he's the illusionist, he's a master of sleight of hand, misdirection, card magic...(He literally changed his name to James Johnson so no one could track him down - there are currently 18,300,000 search results for this name in google, I think it was a good choice). He literally knows the guy that trained David Blaine (no joke) and once performed for the Saudi Arabian Royal Family.

Then there's Mr. Black: He focuses on mentalism...this is crazy stuff...he can tell what you're think by looking at your eyes... seriously he did it to me.

Then of course there's V: He's the black book hypnosis master and the craziest mofo you'll ever meet, If you're wondering what black book hypnosis is, it's basically everything regular hypnotist deem too dangerous or too powerful...they mark techniques such as these as "black book". And that's solely what V specializes in...you can see why he was so powerful.

And I'm not talking boring stuff like "watch the pendulum as you fall into a deep sleep"..bla bla crap...

what he teaches is basically instant mind control.

OVERALL

The Area 51 System...connects the dots...in ordinary magic & hypnosis you learn to do a card trick or maybe some mind reading routine, but that's it. That's as far as it goes...

With the area 51 system...were going to the next level

The Area 51 System will transform you into that guy (or girl)...that everyone wants to know

You can basically have your toughest enemies eating out of the palm of your hand.

You will instantly know how to detect if anyone is lying (truth extractor technique)

You will be able to convince anyone to do anything at the snap of your fingers (I'm talking like never wait in line again, get raises at your job, make people magically agree and follow your every command, even get out of a speeding ticket)

You'll have girls practically begging you to talk to them

You can learn anything in triple time (known as exponential Intake) - used my special forces to train their elite soldiers.

And You'll have a micro memory (sounds bad...but it means you can remember every last detail)...look at a string of numbers and remember them even if it's 30 or 40 digits long (this one really helped me, before this I could barely remember my phone number)

AND TO BE HONEST ALL THIS STUFF IS CHILDS PLAY COMPARED TO THE "BIG GUNS"

So as you can imagine after I finished my full training with the "others" I was one powerful little Irish midget.(I would like to proudly inform you that my facial features have since matured and do not entirely still resemble an Irish Midget)

And the first Thing I wanted to do...

Go back to the club and get in!

But this time I had the techniques, skills and know-how to do it. I didn't waste any time...

I used "Mass Control" to make everyone let me to the front of the line.

Then I used a "Black Mirror" to bi-pass the bouncer.

(I'm not supposed to really explain any of these techniques..but heres a hint: the black mirror is a technique used to make a person instantly like you, basically you have to match his/her movements, I can't tell you exactly how, but that's a start)

And I was in... I saw a group of fellow young clubbers having a good time, there was around eight of them, 50/50 male to female ratio, I liked my chances.

I pulled out a double "Z&H Pattern" to instantly send my confidence through the roof and then approached.

I walked up and used a "Q.F.F.R routine" to open the conversation.

And then hit them with the "Social Puppeteer Routine" a couple times, then threw in some "Value building Gambits" (I'll show you some gambits in the next video, keep an eye out for it)

AND IT WAS DONE...

The whole group was in the palm of my hand, hanging on every word I said and obeying every command...it was an amazing feeling!

I even managed to steal away the most attractive girl from the group (while her hulk-like boyfriend was in such a trance he didn't know what the hell was going on)and got her phone number...in fact she insisted I take it, I didn't even ask.

And so It began...

The "Others" had given me the tools I always wished I had.

AND NOW I WAS LIKE A CHILD WITH DYNIMATE.

AND SOON YOU WILL BE TOO!

However I'm sure you're still extremely confused right now, but don't worry because I'm working on another video that going to explain everything!

And also remember that if you're not interested in picking-up girls, this stuff can be done anywhere, anytime, in any situation. So you are by no means limited to a club atmosphere. These techniques can be used in any social gather or...really in any social situation, whether you're one on one or talking to a thousand people, I guarantee you that they'll all be eating out of your hand within minutes!

(I would love to hear from you)

BONUS GAMBIT

(A REWARD FOR THOSE OF YOU WHO MADE IT ALL THE WAY THROUGH THIS)

This is a cool little trick you can use to raise your social value (I'll explain what I mean in the next video)...

Its called the rock, paper scissors cheat...

Basically you can beat anyone at rock paper scissors.

it has to do with subliminal messaging.

Step one: Walk up to your target and say, "hey wanna play rock paper scissors"

Step Two: as your saying "rock paper scissors," make the gestures that go along with them, with your final gesture landing on scissors...then take it away quickly.

Step three: From there jump right into the game, while the lasting image of scissors is still fresh in the mind, if all goes well they will unconsciously through out scissors.

Step four: you through out rock to crush their scissors and you WIN!

Step five: Play them again and say "hey I thought you knew how to play rock, paper, scissors"...this time make your final gesture paper.

Step six: Through out scissors to beat them

Step seven: Continue this with different banter to give you an excuse to through in your subliminal hand gestures...and keep on winning!
